NEWSPAPERIAL.—Mr. J. P. Glore, Mail Agent of the Kentucky Central Railroad, has our thanks once more for Louisville papers, delivered six hours in advance of the mail.

HERRON'S SEMINARY EXHIBITION.—The annual exhibition of the pupils of Herron's Seminary will take place next Monday evening, at Smith & Nixon's Hall.

Picnic Parry.—The Champion Duncing Club and their friends went to Parlor Grove, yesterday, on a picnic excursion, and enjoyed themselves in the most rational and satisfactory manner. The affair passed off most pleasantly and quietly, and on the downward and return trip of the Champion No. 3, nothing occurred to mar the harmony of the occasion.

WOMAN SEVERELY BURNT BY CAMPHENE. A woman named Margaret Pringle, residing on Carr-street, near Eighth, was severely burnt last evening by the explosion of a camburnt last evening by the explosion of a camphene lamp. Her neck, chest and arms were horribly blackened and blistered, and her face was fearfully disfigured. Her wounds were appropriately dressed by a physician, who was called in, and expressed the opinion that in spite of the injuries she had received, she would probably recover.

Bigamy.—A man named Frederick Kountz was arrested yesterday, upon a warrant issued by the Police Court, at the instance of a woman claiming to be his wife, charging him with bigamy. She stated that she married him two or three year ago, and that he deserted her a few months afterward. A week or two since he procured a license from the clerk of the Probate Court, and was again married by the same person who had united them. The case will probably come up for examination to-day before Judge Lowe.

Accident on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Ralway.—A braicesman, whose name we were unable to learn, was severely injured yesterday morning near the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railway Depot. In putting down the brake it slipped or broke, striking him in the abdomen with such force as to render him wholly unconscious. He was taken up apparently dead and removed to the Depot, when Coroner Carey was sent for, but before he arrived, the wounded man had been taken to his residence on Front-street between John and Smith. He was still alive at latest accounts, but no hopes what-

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS. At their regular diurnal session yesterday morning the County Commissioners passed orders amounting to $100 75, of which $97 75 were paid to the Cincinnati Fuel Company, and $3 to Thomas Gage, for labor on the Reading-road. The following resolutions were also passed:

Resolved, That J. B. Bell, County Surveyor, be and is hereby directed to make examination of the two bridges over the Whitewater Canal at Elizabethtown, and report their condition as early as possible.

Resolved, That E. P. Joseph, Esq., auctioneer, be employed to advertise and sell the frame house, stable, stock, boilers, &c., at the old Lick Run Lunatic Asylum, the sale to take place on the 26th inst., at ten o'clock A. M.

Crry Council.—Proceedings Last Night.
Council met at the usual hour last night,
President Torrence in the Chair. The minutes of the previous evening were read and approved.

When the wards were called, only two petitions were presented, both of which were appropriately referred.

A large number of ordinances, from the Board of Improvements, relating to the paving and building of streets, were passed.

Mr. Walker offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Board of City Improvements be, and they are hereby instructed, to obtain plans and specifications for the purpose of erecting an additional story upon the present City Building; the cost of said plans not to exceed one hundred dollars. Adopted.

[The estimated cost of the second story is $13,300.]

[The estimated cost of the second story is $13,300.]
Mr. Whitcomb called up the ordinance providing for supplies for the City Prison. It provides that the Mayor, City Auditor and Police Clerk shall constitute a Board of Commissioners, for the purpose of superintending the giving out of the contract.
Mr. Tooby moved to strike out the three officers named, and insert the City Commissioners. Withdrawn.
The question was then taken on the ordinance, and it passed.
Mr. Glass offered a resolution authorizing the Mayor to offer a reward of $500 for information that will lead to the detection and conviction of the murderer of Professor Orawley, which was passed. Adjourned.

AMUSEMENTS.

Wood's TREATER. The receipts this even wood's America.—Increase this eventing at this establishment will be set apart for the benefit of Mr. Fistcher, the scenic artist. The new play, entitled The Assessin's Bride, will be produced, together with the laughable farce of Family Jars, in which Mr. Leffngwell, an old favorits hers, will perform the part of "Diggory." The bill is a good one, and should attract a capital house.

SMITH & NIXON'S HALL,—Sanford's Opera

Trouge has been very successful during their present stay in the city, and are still performing nightly at Smith & Nixon's Hall to crowded houses. The trouge is a good one in every particular, and give such delimentions of the negro life and character as deserve to be seen by all lovers of amusements of this kind.

PIKE'S OPERA-HOUSE.—The floral festival ecently given at the Opera-house, we understand, will be repeated at the same establishment, on will be repeated at the same establishment, or Thursday, the 28th inst., with the improvements suggested in the Paxus on the morning after its first performance. With the advantage of proper releas-sals, and a better understanding among the perform-ers of what they will be expected to do, the outer-tainment will be divested of some of its objectionable features, and, we doubt not, pass off very agreeably.

Onto Mechanics Institute—Elonterette
Annual Exhibition.—The committee appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the eighteenth annual exhibition of the Ohio Mechanics' Institute, held a meeting night before last.

The Committee on Special Premiums reported progress, and asked for one week further time.

A proposition was presented for making a die for a new medal, which was accepted, and the Clerk instructed to procure the same; also, to procure 110 gold and silver medals, of which there will be three kinds; part of them to be struck from the diea used for the medals at previous exhibitions.

The committee appointed to confer with the different railroads, &c., for the transportion of freight and the conveyance of passengers to the exhibition, reported that they had made arrangements with one railroad, as contained in the following letter. They asked for one week further time to report on the balance of the routes, though stating that the different roads seemed disposed toward making as favorable arrangements as the Little Miami.

The following letter from Charles H. Kil-making as avorate arrangements as the Intitle Miami.

The following letter from Charles H. Kilgore, Secretary of the Little Miami Railway Company, show the terms upon which that Road will carry passengers and freight to and from the Exhibition:

Total Another Midnight Assault, Spencer Woodruff, who was so brutally assaulted in an alley near Vine and Fourth-had been taken to his residence on Front-street between John and Smith. He was still alive at latest accounts, but no hopes what-ever were entertained of his recovery.

Sautted in an alley near Vine and Fourth-streets a week or so ago, has again become the victim of a similar attack, making the third within the space of three months. While passing along Eighth-at-set less with while passing along Eighth-street list night about eleven o'clock, in company with friend, some one threw a brick from an alley striking him upon the head and cutting very badly. He says he has no idea why h is assaulted in this manner, and is wholly at loss to account for the repeated personal at tacks that have been mide upon him. tacks that have been made upon him.

To Country Merchants.—Since the project of going East for any description of goods to be retailed in the West has been shown to be be retailed in the West has been shown to be unprofitable, it comes within our province to direct country merchants to such establishments as offer inducements in this particular. With that view, we ask a careful reading of the advertisement of H. Gano & Co., in to-day's issue, who, we have reason to know, are prepared to supply all demands for Hardware, at remarkably low figures.

THE RECENT SUDDEN DEMISE AT THE COM-THE RECEST SUDDEN DEMISE AT THE COM-MERCIAL HOSPITAL.—A post obitum examina-tion was held yesterday morning, upon the body of William Reynolds, who died so sud-denly at the Commercial Hospital, last Mon-day, and the physicians gave it as their opinion that death was caused by apoplexy. The jury will convene to-morrow morning to hear their testimony, and the fact we have related will probably anticipate their verdict.

Public Real Estate Sales.—Cooper & Stokes, Auctioneers, sold, yesterday afternoon, a lot of land with buildings, on south side of Third-street, west of Smith-street. Lot fifty-nine and one-fourth feet front by ninety deep to an alley—one-third cash, and balance in one and two years—to Augustus Isham, for $102 50 per foot—$6,073 12%.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF SPLENDID BUILDING-SITES, ON MOUNT ADAMS.—Cooper & Stokes, auctioneers, will sell, this afternoon at three o'clock, on the premises, on Mount Adams, north of the Observatory, a large number of beautiful building-lots of various sizes. The sale will be absolute—without reserve. Terms liberal.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONCERT.—A concert for the benefit of the Raper Chapel Sunday-school will be given this evening at the Church, cor-ner of Findlay-street and Rim. Ample prep-arations have been made, and an entertain-ment is anticipated of more than ordinary interest.

FIRE YESTERDAY MORNING.—The house of a tailor named Heilman, on Main-street, be-tween Woodward and Franklin, took fire yesterday morning about eleven o'clock, but was extinguished without any material dam?

New READING.—Godey's Lady's Book for July, together with Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, Harper's Weekly, the New York Illustrated News, and other popular week-lies and mouthlies, can be had of G. N. Lewis, No. 28 West Sixth-street.

Ar half-past three o'clock, this afternoon, J. Graff & Co. sell the large soap, candle, and lard oil factory, on Livingston-street. Also, one hundred and seventy-five feet of ground on Poplar-street. See advertisement.

THARES.—We are indebted to General McMakin for a copy of the Ohio Agricultural Report, for 1858, second series, for which he will please accept our thanks.

LAW REPORT.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Hannah Stewart es. Charles Warren. This case proceeded before Judge Storer. The plaintiff's counsel read depositions in relation to her habits of living—her economy and industry. John Bates was examined touching the nature of the plaintiff's engagement at the National Theater—her salary and the time of her service as an actress. The witness said she was an industrious and saving woman, and attended to her business. Testimony offered by the defense in relation to her character for unchastity was rejected by the Court.

mony offered by the defense in relation to her character for unchastity was rejected by the Court.

Chas. Warren, the defendant, was called to the stand, and testified that he was sent for by plaintiff, to instruct her in music; that his tuition extended over a period of six years; that he also instructed her children; that he received from her altogether, at various times, in all, $1,158; but that he had repaid it, and that a large balance was due him for tuition. He denied that there was any marriage contract between the parties, as he was already married; he also denied that he had boarded with plaintiff, or had ever slept a night in her house. When in New York, in her company, he registered their names as "Charles Warren and lady."

Alf. Burnett testified that plaintiff claimed Mr. Warren as her husband, but never heard her make any money demand upon him. The witness said her reputation for trath was bad, and he would not believe her under oath if she was interested.

George Selves and T. Sands had heard her claim money from Mr. Warren for sleeping with her.

Final Report.—The Grand Jury also presented a special report. They state they were in session eight days; examined two hundred and sixty-three witnesses in seventy-three cases, and reported forty-eight bills of indictment. They found matters all right at the jail; and were happy to state the County Commissioners were proceeding rapidly with the erection of the new jail. They visited Long View Lunatic Asylum at Carthage, and refer to the various departments of the building, and describe the mode of supplying water. The building is lighted by gas, distributed by about 500 burners. The total number of patients in the house is three hundred and thirty-nine; males 161, females 178. The male wards are rather crowded for room since the injury to the building from the late tornado. The Commissioners made prompt arrangement, for repairs. arrangement, for repairs.

MEETING OF THE PARK COMMISSIONERS.—The newly appointed Park Commissioners met yesterday, at the office of the City Solicitor, and after being sworn, elected W. A. Adams President, and Charles Reemelin Secretary. The Commissioners will hold another meeting this magning at the control of the commissioners. ing this morning at ten o'clock.

board the No. 3.

On motion R. K. Summerwell was called to the chair, and Edward Cox appointed Secretary.

On motion R. K. Summerwell was called to the chair, and Edward Cox appointed Secretary.

The Chairman stated the object of the meeting, and on motion, a committee of five was appointed to draft resolutions consistent with said object and expressive of the sense of the meeting. The Chair named Messre. Hiram Martin, Richard H. Collins, Henry W. Birge, George Goodhue and Dr. R. S. Spilman the committee, who, after consultation, reported through their Chairman, H. Martin, the following resolutions:

Whereas, the Captains A. and V. Shinkle have this season, as for years past, contributed largely, not only to its pleasures, but also to the interest of the various Sundayschools in the city of Covington.

Resolved, That we return our thanks to them for the free use of their beautiful steamers, and for the pleasure and recreation of this day.

Resolved, That this act of generosity has obliterated for the time the line between youth, that the marks of two-score winters yet hang upon their brows.

Resolved, That we will long remember this, 12th day of June, as the May day of 1860.

Resolved, That the above preamble and resolutions be published in our city papers.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously, and three cheers given for the Messrs. A. & V. Shinkle, and their elegant pleasure boats, the Champions.

RECOVERY OF STOLEN GOODS.—Two or three cases of surgical instruments, belonging to Drs. Thomas and Holt, and recently stolen from them, were yesterday recovered in Cincinnati, one having been sold to Dr. Talliafero, and the others pawned to a Hammond-street broker. The taief, a man named Coburn, who claims to be a member of the Maysville medical fraternity, was arrested, and will probably have an opportunity to practice his profession, cut stone, or engage in some other honorable pursuit, at Frankfort, for about three years.

Another "Mill."—We learn that a "mill' between two muscular champions took place in the neighborhood of Luplow, day before yesterday, but we will not gratify the parties by particularly noticing them in the papers. Such a course, if universally pursued, would do more toward annihilating such amusements than a volume of moral lessons.

Curious Indian Legend About the Rocky Mountains.

There is a quaint tradition existing among the Indians of the North-west, in connection with the snow-peaks of Mounts Baker, Haner, St. Helen's and Hood, of the Cascade range of the Bocky Mountains.

The lofty peaks were supposed, when the world was young, to be Tyees—Kings—of the lesser mountains of their respective districts. Here they ruled in kingly grandeur, receiving from their subjects such homage as is due to great chiefs, and in themselves acknowledging no superior except the Great Spirit. For ages their reign was an uninterrupted scene of peace and happiness. Seas, lakes and mighty rivers bathed their feet, and their sides were clothed with evergreen forests. Here the beasts and fishes roamed in primeval bliss, fearing neither the hunter their sides were clothed with evergreen forests. Here the beasts and fishes roamed in primeval bliss, fearing neither the hunter nor the fisherman, for man was not yet here. But in time, like nations, discord arose among them. Each chief assumed the quarrel of his subjects, and an unrelenting war was the result. In their rage they belched forth fire and smoke, and hurled at each other fiery rocks, desolating their fair sides, choking up the lakes and rivers with their fragments, and destroying the inhabitants of both land and water. For years this conflict raged with demoniac fury until the Great Spirit became angry, and bade them cease their quarrel and close their very mouths. And to punish them for their folly and their sin in laying waste their fair domains, he covered them each with an eternal mantle of snow. From that time peace has reigned among them, although occasionally they have muttered and given signs of rebellion; but the Great Spirit points, with a significant smile, to their snowy fetters, and their burning spirits sink deep within their bosoms.

BRIEF SERTCH OF GENERAL JESSOF'S LIFE.

As a gallant officer and esteemed citizen, this war-worn veteran had no superior. He was born in Virginia, in 1788. In the conflict of 1812 he was Brigade-Major and Acting-Adjutant-General to General Hull. He was subsequently brevetted Lieutenant-Colouel, for distinguished and meritorious services in the battle of Chippewa; afterward brevetted Colonel for gallant conduct and distinguished skill in the battle of Niagara, in which he was severely wounded. On the 27th of May, 1818, the gallant officer was appointed Adjutant-General, with the rank of Colonel. In May, 1828, was brevetted Major-General in consideration of ten years' faithful service. In the same month he took command of the army in the Creek Nation, Ala, and succeeded General Call in the command of the army in Florida on the 8th of December, 1836. He was wounded in the action with the Seminole Indians, near Jupiter Inlet, on the 24th of January, 1838; was succeeded by Colonel Z. Taylor on the 15th of BRIEF SEETCH OF GENERAL JESSUP'S LIFE. ceeded by Colonel Z. Taylor on the 15th of May, 1838, and returned to his department in Washington City.

A BUILDING FIRED BY A TOY BALLOON.—
The New Orleans Picayane gives the following as a key to fires: A gentleman residing in the rear of Ursulines-street, was sitting on his back gallery, reading a book, yesterday afternoon, when, casually looking up, he saw a blaze under his kitchen. Running out to the back yard he found a small balloon with a ball of cotton impregnated with spirits, burning right under the building. It was only with great difficulty that he succeeded in extinguishing the fire. The balloon igniting in the air, had fallen in the back yard, and had probably been blown under the kitchen by the wind. But for the timely discovery of this accident, we would have to record another unexplainable case of fire, for the gentleman was alone in the house at the time, and there was no fire about the premises. time, and there was no fire about the premises

PETER PARLEY's BOOKS.—In one of his books the late "Peter Parley," speaking of his own literary labors, remarks: "I thus stand before the public as the author and editor of about one hundred and seventy volumes, one hundred and sixteen bearing the name of Peter Parley. Of these, about seven millions of volumes have been sold; about three hundred thousand volumes are now [1857] sold annually." Notwithstanding the fact that a large number of spurious Parley books were published by various parties, Mr. Goodrich made a large fortune from the genuine works.

Two Rowdies Shor in Few York.—Michael Sherry, an Irish peddler, residing in New York, had been for some time seriously annoyed by a gang of young rowdies, who threatened to enter his apartments, and last Saturday, having made a noisy demonstration under his window, he procured a gun and shot James Nellis and Patrick McCarty dangerously, and would have killed the policeman who went to arrest him, had they not taken him unawares.

IBAAC V. FOWLER STILL IN NEW YORK.— The Sunday Mercury says: "Mr. Fowler neither took passage on the Moses Taylor for Havana, nor has he at any time contemplated a future residence in Brazil. He is in the State of New York—almost daily in the city of New York; and, if we are correctly informed, he has not the remotest idea of availing himself of the 'uncomfortable advantages' incident to self-expatriation."

A Texas Jungs Smot Dean.—B. B. Walker, Chief Justice of Lavaca County, was shot at Halletsville, Texas, a few days ago, by Robert Kelley, a storekeeper in that place, and wounded so severely that he expired shortly afterward. The cause of the difficulty is said to have been a report, alleged to have been spread by the deceased in regard to Kelly and his eferk.

The Happinst Lor.—The happinst lot for a person, as far as birth is concerned, is that it should be such as to give him but little occasion to think much about it; which will be the case if it be neither too high nor too low for his existing situation.

A Convict Loven.—A girl in Jackson County, Michigan, answered an advertisement for a wife. The parties met and affairs progressed so far that the wedding day was fixed, when he was discovered to be a recently-discharged convict from the penitentiary.

Coremony of the Coronalion The King of Sweden Crowned. The Stockholm correspondent of the Lon-

The Stockholm correspondent of the London Telegraph wrote thus on the 4th uit.:

The King was received at the door of the Storkirke, or Stockholm Cathedral, by the Archbishop, at the head of the Episcopacy of the realm. Having been conducted by Archbishop Reuterdaol to a raised seat in front of the altar, he dismisses that dignitary, who, like his reverend brothers, is attired in Roman Catholic vestments, to accompany the Queen in a similar manner to a seat on the opposite side. The throne, which has been erected on a line with the altar, at present remains empty. When the royal personages are seated, the members of the procession gradually subside into their appointed places, and the organ, whose solemn tones had, during this time, been filling the vanited roofs, suddenly ceases to play.

At this moment their Majesties fall upon their knees, offering up a lengthened prayer to the Almighty. The bishops who, on the entrance of the royal personages, had saluted them with words of spiritual welcome, severally take their parts in the appointed service, and the Primate preaches the coronation sermon from the text. "The Lord is their strength, and He is the saving strength of His anointed." —Pealm XXVII, V.8.

strength, and He is the saving strength of His anointed."—Psalm XXVII, V.8.

The Cathedral Church is a low-roofed building of the thirteenth century, and in its style and adornment hears the character of a time when the distinctive features of the Gothic had as yet barely penetrated to the Scandinavian regions of Northern Europe.

A coronation anthem, which I understand to have been composed for the occasion, follows the sermon of the Archbishop. On the choir singing the words. "Come forward and receive the burden of the golden fillet," the King leaves his chair, lays aside his princely coronet and mantle, and beckons the knights of the order of the Seraphin to approach. The point of chief interest has at length arrived. The Archbishop and Privy Councillor Fahraens, Minister of Justice, taking hold of the coronation robe on either side, place it upon the person of the King, who instantly falls upon his knees, at the same time placing his right hand upon the leaves of a Bible, open at the first page of the Gospel of St. John. In this attitude his Majesty, repeating the words after the Minister of Justice, swears to rule the people of Sweden in accordance with the Constitution of the kingdom, to shape his path according to the teachings of Christianity—to be just and merciful. A short enough formula of oath, but distinctly and impressively worded.

After thus pledging himself to keep inviolate the Constitution of the country, to be a good Christian, and to do that which is lawful and proper, the King bares his breast to receive the unguent, and with it to be raised to the full dignity of divine right. The Archbishop then anoints the royal person with holy oil upon the forehead, temples, breast, and wrists of either hand, pronouncing at the same time these words: "I pray the Almighty Eternal God to infuse his Holy Spirit into your soul and senses, your intentions and enterprises, so that you may be enabled by these gifts from Heaven to govern your realm and country to the glory and honor of God, the establishment

An Accomplished Villain—His Romantic Villainies.

A man undergoing imprisonment in the prison of Boulogne-sur-Mer for robbery, under the assume of name of Aaron, has been recognized as one of a very desperate band of burglars, seventeen in number, who were arrested in the South of France in 1851, but all of whom, singular to relate, succeeded in escaping. This Aaron, who effected his escape from the prison at Pan, was sent back there. Recently he was brought to trial before the Court of Assizes of the Basses-Pyrenees for robbery and burglary. In answer to the President, he stated that he had passed by the different names of Alexander, Henri, Dufour, Leon, Martin, Jacob and Aaron, but his real name is David; also that he had represented himself to be a Belgian and a Roman Catholic, but that he is really a Frenchman and a Jew.

He said also that he had been condemned in almost every one of those names, and that on returning from England he had stopped at Boulogne, and had there been condemned. Proof was then given of several robberies and burglaries committed by him in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these, in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these.

robberies and burglaries committed by him in 1850 and 1851; and among them were these; At Libourne, where he resided some little time, he passed himself off as a corn-cutter, and by affecting to be a rigid Jew, obtained the confidence of a rich Israelite trader, named Doliveira. He ended by robbing him of 20,000f, worth of goods. At Bayonne, he broke into the shops of a watchmaker and lacemaker, and stole from one goods to the value of 12,000f, and from the other 10,000f. It was stated to the Court that the prisoner had extraordinary skill in disguising himself, and that he spoke several languages with facility. The jury declared the man guilty, and condemned him to twenty years hard labor.

Policemen Required to See in the Dark.
Two policemen of Houston, Texas, were recently fined one hundreddollars each, because they could not distinguish, in the night, a white man from a negro. The circumstances, as detailed by a local paper, are the following. The officers were watching for slaves or colored people of any sort, who might be out after hours; they saw a man in the distance and called aloud to him. He happened to be a stranger to the custome of the country, and supposed they had designs on his personal property; whereupon he ran, was pursued by the policemen, knocked down and beaten severely. The paper referred to says that the city can never expect to have good officers till it has to pay a round penalty for bad ones, and advises the injured man to sue the municipality for damages. The Texas standard for a good officer seems to be one who can see in the dark, and who will exercise his brutality only on negroes. cise his brutality only on negroes.

A Felicitous Companion.—When the moon shines brightly, we are apt to say, "How beautiful is this moon-light?" but in the day-time, "How beautiful are the trees, the fields, the mountains!"—and, in short, all the objects that are illuminated; but we never speak of the sun that makes them so. Just in the same that are intumnated but we never speak of the sun that makes them so. Just in the same way, the really greatest orator shines like the sun, making you think much of the things he is speaking of; the second-best shines like the moon, making you think much of him-and his stoquence.

The Hixpoo Notion of Conjugal Infinitive.—According to the Hindoo law, the penalty denounced against a breach of conjugal fidelity is remitted only in case of the inducement to its commission having been the present of an elephant, this being considered a denocur too magnificent for any one to be expected to refuse. Among us, though an actual elephant is not the very thing that offers the strongest temptation, there is in most people's conscience something analogous to it; and different things are "elephants" to different people. different people.

MURDER OF A LEVES CONTRACTOR.—Recently James Keith, a well-known contractor, of Memphis, Tenn., was murdered at the leves works, near Austin, Tunica County, Miss., by two of his laborers, with whom he had previously had an altercation. Both assaulted him at the same time; and the fatal blow was given with a shovel, which, striking him on the neck, severed the juglar vein, producing instant death.
